

LEAF COMMENTS: BROOMFIELD HOUSE & PARK EXHIBITON JULY 2018 – APRIL 2019

---

Unnamed: I remember Broomfield 70s and the big slide and beehive and fox. The war memorial and the noisy budgies!

Unnamed: Playing netball in the park every Saturday throughout my teens.

Unnamed: A lost treasure.

Pearl Clarke: I liked the stuffed fox and pigeon as I have never seen a real fox. (My mum remembers the café that was there!

Unnamed: The local community has lost some great heritage.

Unnamed: My family live opposite the park I have many happy memories there. Nowadays I bring my own children and it is where they learnt to ride bikes and enjoy picnics.

Unnamed: As a child watching the bees and having a cup of tea in the café in the 1950s.

Unnamed: I don't believe that this place has so many things about Broomfield Park.

Unnamed: Five generations of our family have enjoyed the park. Many happy memories of the blind garden, and wooden playground.

Unnamed: I moved into Palmers Green the day Broomfield House had its first fire in 1984, so I never saw the murals! I hope they can be fully restored and the house resurrected.

Unnamed: A beautiful place to come with children, family or friends. Especially to see the beehive.

Evie: This place is very fascinating.

Unnamed: School athletics on a very hot day. I won the 100 yards. I got sunstroke.

Angelee: I used to play there as a child with my mother. Now I take my son.

Unnamed: Lovely to see so many memories of such a lovely park. Will the house ever be restored?

Ruth: Happy memories of my 50s/60s childhood spent admiring the museum items, playing, picnicing in the park. A sad loss of a beautiful house. My own children enjoyed the park but did not see the wonderful house in its glory.
